A Dollar for a Name

We contemplate changing the name of this paper. We will give a reward of a year's subscription to the best weekly paper in Western North Carolina for the best name suggested. Send in your suggestions.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE.

How about that poll tax? Spring weather, this. Good time to plant gardens.

Only 60 days and then the summer visitors will begin to arrive.

J. L. Gash, the efficient station agent at Etowah, spent Monday in the city.

Squire J. N. Russell was in the city from Fletcher on Monday.

J. D. Beale was a visitor in Asheville last week, where he attended the Comic Opera "Isle of Spice."

Uncle Charlie Fletcher and Claude Sales were in the city from Hooper's Creek on Monday, both looking well and happy.

On account of publishing the tax sales we are compelled to leave out several interesting communications.

W. W. Zachary, Esq., a well known lawyer, of Brevard, was among the many visitors in Hendersonville Monday and Tuesday.

J. P. Rickman has bought a fine young mare from Messrs. Jackson and Wyatt. She moves over the roads in double-quick style.

Capt. W. D. Miller was here from Rugby the first of the week shaking hands with friends and relating stories of "ye olden times."

C. E. Pless spent Saturday night and Sunday in Asheville, which place appears to hold out special attractions for him. Is there a "fair damsel" in the case?

In order to be on the safe side next November try to get hold of that poll tax receipt before the first of May—Don't neglect, lest you forget.

P. Nelson, one of the most prominent lawyers of Columbia, S. C., has leased the residence of R. H. Stanson for the summer. Mr. Nelson spent last season there as a guest at the Wheeler.

R. J. Fletcher, of Bowman's Bluff, came down on Monday to place several beautifully dressed sheep skins, which a number of Hendersonville people and visitors to the city use for rugs.

Hon. Solomon Gallert, of Rutherfordton was a visitor in the city last week. He remained over and in company with Jesse Beale attended the "great" Cole & Rogers circus.

Squire Oats, of Bear Wallow, was here Monday on official business in connection with the board of education. He is enthusiastic for better educational facilities in his section.

Stanton, Rector, Cunningham & Co. have rented to Mr. Geo. Christie of Jacksonville, Fla., one of the Orr cottages on E. Shaw's Creek street. Mr. Christie and family will arrive about May 15th.

Mr. R. L. Eubanks, who is manager of the Imperial Mutual Life and Health Insurance Company, of Asheville, is now a resident of this city, and will make it his headquarters. His district covers about a hundred miles around Hendersonville.

The Hospital Association will meet Thursday at 3 o'clock in the Commissioners Room at the Court House. A full attendance is urged as matters of much importance are to be discussed.

Judge William Chambers, of Washington, D. C., has rented the Beale residence on Fleming Ave. Judge Chambers and his family are pleasantly remembered here, having spent the summer here four years ago. The Judge and his family will arrive about June 1st.

Messrs. G. W. Ragan and W. W. Glenn, two prominent citizens and cotton-mill men of Gastonia, were guests at the Blue Ridge Inn Tuesday night. They spent Wednesday forenoon looking over the town and were favorably impressed with the evidences of progress.

T. E. Grimes has an abiding faith in Hendersonville's future. During his brief residence of less than a year in this vicinity he has invested about $14,000 in real estate, the latest purchases being the attractive country places of Messrs. J. L. Orr and J. A. Collins in the Tracy Grove community near the city.

There is certainly "nodearth" of horses in Hendersonville these days, and many of them are not the "sorry sort, either." Our delightful little city will be strictly in the swim when the "good old summer time" rolls around this year.

D. A. Lyda, who was in town from Roosevelt on Monday, tells of the marriage of Mr. Mitchell Nix and Miss Sarah Rhodes, which joyous event occurred in that section last Sunday.

The people of Bat Cave and vicinity are soon to vote upon the question of establishing a special tax district for the benefit of public education. The question will also be submitted to the voters of the Fruitland section, all of which indicates progress with a big P. Education is the basic principle of civilization.

J. D. Boyd is getting in a big stock of goods.

Will Breese, the prominent attorney of Brevard, was in town Tuesday.

T. E. Hughston, of Zirconia, made us a pleasant call the first of the week.

Miss Jennie Vall Davis, daughter of Ira J. Davis, is seriously ill.

Dr. A. H. Morey is having his handsome office building newly painted.

W. P. Whitmire, of Brevard, paid us a pleasant visit last week.

The work on the postoffice building is progressing rapidly.

Miss Mittie Breeding, of Asheville, was in the city last week visiting her parents.

H. I. Harriman of Reedsville, Mass., was a guest of the Blue Ridge Inn, Monday.

Smith & Waldrop have sold to Mrs. E. G. Wilson, a lot on W. College st., consideration $250.

A number of our musically-inclined people are going to Spartanburg to attend the Music Festival.

Mr. J. E. Thomas, a prominent physician of Philadelphia, is here for an indefinite rest, to restore his health.

W. A. Smith has unofficially endorsed the work of the proposed Civic League by having his house painted.

The souvenir book, for the publishing of which the Hustler has the contract, will probably be ready within two weeks.

Mr. Ranson, the efficient principal of the Flat Rock Graded School, has gone to his home, in Mecklenburg, for a short visit.

E. R. Memminger, of Flat Rock, has returned to his home, there with his daughter, who has been seriously ill in Atlanta for some time past.

James Price who was here to attend the burial of his sister, Mrs. Gale, has returned to Pittsburg, on account of the labor troubles in that section.

Miss Mary Holden, the popular teacher of the first and second grades of the Flat Rock School, has left for her home for a short visit.

Much of our space this week is covered by the delinquent tax list. However, that will be news to a good many people. Is your name written there?

We regret to record the death of Mr. A. R. Shipman, Mud Creek, of heart disease, on Monday, March 26th. Interment was made in Patis Chapel, Fletcher.

Dr. A. R. Love, pastor of the Baptist Church, was treated to a pleasant surprise Sunday, when he was notified of an increase in his salary from $800 to $1000, as a token of appreciation on the part of his congregation.

The Baptist congregation has bought a lot from W. H. Ray, on Anderson Avenue, and have closed the contract for the removal thereto of the old Presbyterian church, which they recently purchased. It will be used as a Baptist mission.

Mrs. W. J. Davis, returned Sunday from Morganton, where she has been visiting Mr. Davis, and reports the condition of our popular County Commissioner very much improved in health. This will be good news to Mr. Davis' very many friends.

It is proposed that those having a surplus of rose bush cuttings, and flower plants of any kind, leave them at some central location, where they will be given out to those calling for them. The distributing place has not as yet been decided upon, but will be announced next week. This is along the line the proposed Civic League proposes to work when fully organized.

R. P. Freeman and a strong delegation from the depot part of the town will be on hand at the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen and present a strong petition for a sewer for that part of the city. The business men there are determined to have the sewer built, claiming it is an absolute necessity, and they will endeavor to make the Board take the same view of the matter.

The interest in the projected hospital and in the work of the Hospital Association is now general. The ladies are untiring in their efforts to awaken public sentiment, the doctors are working with them, and there is no doubt the Hospital Association will be rewarded for its efforts by soon having a modern building. It is proposed to use the cottage plan, adding new rooms and new buildings as occasion demands. They have a choice of nine lots, and offers from the building trades to do their share towards the noble work. They continue to relieve cases of destitution, and Hendersonville's public-spirited people may be trusted to back up the Association in everything it may ask for.

Fresh news every week from the liveliest store in Western North Carolina will fill this space during 1906. We will be right here at the bottom of this column, so you can find our news quick. Our store is the bargain store of Asheville. Do not forget what to start with.

Yours truly,

John M. Stoner

Rest Comes at Last.

While sleeping softly the angels came at last to Catherine Gale, whispering sweet truths of the life beyond, luring the weary soul into the heart's true home. In the noon-tide of life the angel of renunciation came and laid on her his strong right hand demanding much, which she denied him not—nor asked the reason why. All down the weary years her life was fraught with deeds of sacrifice and kindly ministrations to all who came her way until in time of great affliction she was forced to yield the privilege up.

Being a member of the Presbyterian church she was always happier, and brighter after a visit from her pastor. Whilst being grateful for the presence and devotion of daughters who were ever by her side, her thoughts went out to one that was far away, who in the softer days of spring was to bring to her waiting heart the "little Catherine" but this was not to be and so, patiently and without moan, the plans she held most dear, were, to gather with

All hopes, all desires
Silently laid on alter fires.

"Angels, sing on! your faithful watches keeping:
Sing us sweet fragments of the songs above;

Till morning's joy shall end the night of weeping,
And life's long shadows break in cloudless love."

Big Lot Horses Received by the Claude Brown Co.

The well known Claude Brown Company received, on Tuesday, 100 head of horses and mules, of all grades, from high class roadsters, saddlers, and fancy teams, to the cheap pony and useful farm horse and mule. This is the first shipment only, as in about 2 weeks they expect another great consignment, and in order to make room for the second lot, they will clean out these at once, and will price them so they will not stay long in their mammoth barns. We understand they can be bought for cash or credit. The Claude Brown Company will bear watching, as they intend having the largest business in horses, mules, carriages and wagons, in the Carolinas. Their cash or credit method, their courteous treatment to all, their large capital, which enables them to buy at the lowest prices, and to sell the same way, makes these people a perfectly safe concern to do business with. They extend an invitation to all to call and inspect their barns and stock.

Forest Reserve Bill.

The senate committee on forest reserves has reported favorably on the bill creating the White mountain forest reserve in New Hampshire, and the Appalachian forest reserve, embracing lands in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee. The interests behind the two separate reserve propositions combined for strength, and it is expected that the omnibus bill will be pushed through both houses.—Atlanta Constitution.

Death of Mrs. Fox.

Mrs. Julia (McLin) Fox died Thursday morning, March 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hatch.

Mrs. Fox was born in Newbern, 80 years ago, and was the widow of Dr. C. J. Fox, of Charlotte. She had been a resident of this county during past four years, staying first in Flat Rock and then in Hendersonville. Mrs. Fox was most active in all charitable enterprises, and she will be sincerely mourned by many.

A short service was sent by Rev. R. N. Wilcox, on Thursday afternoon, at the late residence, and Mr. Hatch accompanied the body to Charlotte, where funeral services were held on Thursday last.

"Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord."

The Auditorium Project.

In response to the HUSTLER's exclusive article last week in reference to the new Auditorium, we have received many communications, most of them for and some against the project. Lack of space this week forbids publication of them, but in our next issue we expect to print what some of our readers have to say about the matter. Some of our most prominent citizens are enthusiastic concerning it, claiming that if Hendersonville is to keep up the rapid pace she has been going the past few years, she must be prepared to handle any kind of a convention, religious or political, and to do so, we must have a suitable building.

Something Doin'.

We are in a position to state that there is every assurance Hendersonville will, before very long, have something definite to show for its efforts towards locating a cotton mill here. To go into particulars now would not help and might injure the project, but there is every prospect of a fair-size mill being located in this city before very long. The men backing it are experienced, and they show their confidence in the project by their willingness to invest a large amount of money. Hendersonville's advantages are being gradually recognized, and this is but one of many enterprises which will help push this city to her rightful place.

Oiled Streets.

It has been suggested to us that oil instead of water might profitably be used on Hendersonville's streets, this summer. The advantages of oil over water are generally conceded. It preserves the street, renders it dustless as well as mudless, and as a sanitary measure is highly recommended. It is claimed that the saving in the one item of cost of repairs is considerable, and many of our citizens are talking of taking up the matter with the Board of Aldermen.

The most rational remedy for Coughs and Colds is Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It acts on the bowels as a mild cathartic—expels all cold from the system. Cuts all phlegm out of the throat, relieves croup, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. An ideal remedy for children—equally good for adults. Sold by F. V. Hunter.

Suspicious Death

Frank Carr, colored, died Saturday night, under suspicious circumstances. Dr. Harris, the coroner, held a post-mortem examination, Tuesday, but until the coroner's jury returns its verdict the cause of Carr's death will not be known. Drs. Kirk and Dixon attended the man, and Dr. Waldrop assisted the coroner at the post-mortem. Carr was a house carpenter, a hard working and respected man. He was taken suddenly ill and died soon after. Elias Robinson, boarder at the same place, was taken ill at the same time and has since died.

Death of Mrs. Peacock

Mrs. A. C. Peacock, whose severe illness has been noted in these columns, died on Thursday of last week and was buried the day following, in Oakdale cemetery, Rev. A. R. Love conducting the last sad rites.

Deceased was thirty-six years of age. She leaves a husband and three little boys who are sorely grieved on account of this sad misfortune. Mrs. Peacock lived the life of a consistent Christian wife and mother, being devoted to her family and affairs of the home. She was a modest, lovable woman, and had attracted many friends since coming to Hendersonville a few years ago. Her death was a shock to the entire community and the sympathy of all go out to the bereaved family and friends.
